

TRANSFER OF CREDIT/ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

Northern Industrial Training, LLC (NIT) achievements as a post-secondary school for adults include programmatic accreditation through institutions such as the National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER) and the Professional Truck Driver Institute (PTDI); institutional accreditation through the Alaska Commission on Postsecondary Education (ACPE) and the Council on Occupational Education (COE); and recognition as the only approved American Welding Society (AWS) test center in the state of Alaska.

Anchored by institutional values based on integrity, respect, professionalism, consistency, and the will to succeed, NIT continues to reach out to other institutes of higher learning, and create educational pathways for every student and graduate.

As of August 2018, NIT has solidified articulation agreements with Columbia Southern University, Ilisagvik College, and the University of Alaska, Anchorage, and continues to search for the greatest learning opportunities for students and graduates alike.

What Does This Mean For You?

Every graduate of NIT has the opportunity to apply the knowledge and skills learned during their training and continue their education through credit transfer with Columbia Southern University, Ilisagvik College, and UAA. Awarded credits and continuing education units (CEU) vary by program and by institution.
